Dear Shareholder

The above diagramme is representative of the exciting organization that you have invested in. Congratulations! It is growing and changing each and every day but the one fact does not change – we are heading for a JSE listing somewhere soon after 1 March next year. We are all scampering to finalise the prospectus content which is deadlined for middle November. It continues to be a fabulous ride. Great to have you on board.

A report on only a few of these trading divisions include:

Flystandby

Finally positive news that we can celebrate about! Our intensive marketing effort is starting to pay the kind of dividends required. It has come up with a really fabulous and powerful

BEE partner as well as our ability to put the Standby Business model into practice – not just locally but internationally too.

Watch this space over the next few months as this concept goes live and the people of South Africa finally get rewarded for their patience.

Standby

Standby Parcel Services offers a unique courier service. We are one of only two parcel services here in SA which have the ability to quote “on line”, take payment “on line” and track the shipment too. Standby has a special relationships with the world’s leading parcel delivery services – from anywhere to anywhere.

As “excess luggage” is about to become the latest enemy of all passengers, Standby Parcels can already boast major hotels listed as our registered “depots”. They have the ability to send guest luggage or curios home at less than half of the standard airline rate. The system also allows the passenger the peace of mind that their precious possessions are cared for professionally.

Elwierda Tours

Our investment into Elwierda Tours started paying dividends from the first day! Johan Steenkamp, the MD and ex owner, has very quickly established himself as irreplaceable on the Standby Board. His wealth of travel and tourism experience adds volumes to our decision making processes and the continued profitability of this pristinely and efficiently run organization adds a wonderful history to the Standby stable.

The Elwierda license and brand is already being utilized elsewhere in Standby for the introduction of a luxury coach ride between Cape Town and the Eastern Cape. This is seen as the precursor to the Standby Express Airline which will be servicing the same routes in the air.

AND SOOO MUCH MORE.....

..... The future of all airline ticket sales starts with the Standby Airshare concept. With the rights to 10 international destinations over the next 10 years. That's one per year!! For as little as R30, 000. That's an average of only R3,000 per year and an annual levy of just enough to pay for the airport taxes. This unique product offering allows for the equivalent of resort timeshare in the sky.

Swap, Bank, or Sell – the right is yours.

Latest news! Fly Standby Travel (Pty) Ltd has concluded an international amalgamation contract for the marketing and distribution of this unique and special product. Shareholders can anticipate with confidence that they will be able to make use of this incredible product within the next few months.

The future of all airlines will look like Airshare.

THE FUTURE IS NOW!

The new Standby 'pay as you go' airtime option offers users a first time service experience not yet seen in South Africa!

Users who register with standby will get either a standard 7% discount on the purchase of all airtime for their phone (which is higher than the banks or major chain store get) or be able to "sell" the airtime on by transferring "instantly" from their phone to the new purchaser.

COMING SOON.....

LISTING OBJECTIVES

Standby is a public company with an objective of listing its shares on the JSE Securities Exchange early next year. The organization consist of four fundamental divisions each of which has its own basket of unique and inspiring products.

What you the Shareholder would like to know....

How soon can you expect a listing to take place?

Our negotiations regarding the purchase of Elwierda specified that the listing would take place within 6 months of the finalization of the deal. This has been completed and we are on track for the listing taking place early 2010.

Are you BEE Compliant as regards JSE listing criteria?

*Standy is a "dot com" organization. Everything is outsourced. We aim to keep it that way. Our JSE listing will come via a "reverse" listing. The company has been identified and the project is well on the way to finality. A BEE group has, in the meantime been identified and we feel confident that our listing will proudly have an official 25% BEE, preferential share component
